

Dear Senator:

I am writing to urge you to consider the evidence supporting ratification of the CTBT. There is no reason for the United States to resume explosive testing. We will be more secure once all nations are prohibited from conducting nuclear tests and we can improve our ability to detect, deter, and confront proliferators. That can only occur once the U.S. Senate approves the CTBT and it enters into force. Please consider the national security benefits of a test ban as the Senate consults with the President and begins to revisit ratification of the CTBT.
